

Record attendance for Leather Working Group meeting

Hong Kong
Published: 06 April, 2017

The Leather Working Group, which is now in its 12th year, held its first full member meeting of 2017 straight after APLF in Hong Kong on April 1, 2017, which had a record attendance.

With a record 126 delegates registered, the full day's programme included open panel discussions on topics such as chemical management, the challenges of traceability and central effluent treatment plants.

Additional elements on the agenda included updates from the various LWG working groups and benchmarking data.

The next LWG member meeting will be held in Milan on October 3, 2017, immediately before the Lineapelle leather fair.

The Leather Working Group is expanding in scope and membership, and continues to meet growing needs with a continued enthusiasm for environmental improvement within the leather supply chain.
